ALI NASSER EXPOSES CONDITIONS BEING LIVED BY REGIMES ON WHOSE TERRITORIES THE AMERICAN MILITARY MANOEUVRES ARE CONDUCTED

ADEN, Nov. 23 - ANA - Comrade Ali Nasser Mohammad, Secretary General of the Central Committee and Chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme People's Council and Premier affirmed that a political, economic and social crisis is being lived by the regimes on whose territories the American forces are conducting the military manoeuvres. He pointed out in a press interview held with him by the Agence France Presse that the staging of these manoeuvres reflects the reality of this crisis and its depth and link with the crisis and laceration of the capitalist regime in the West.

In the course of his interview, the Secretary General described these manoeuvres as proving remarkably the extent to which the new American Administration went for expressing its aggressive intentions and continuation to adopt hostility to peace, flagrant interference in the internal affairs of the peoples of the developing countries and the desire to intensify the international situation and shake the bases of world security and peace and revive the policy of cold war. The following is the full text of the interview:-

Q.1 - What is your stand from the manoeuvres now taking place in the area and in which the United States along with some countries of the area are taking part?

A.1 - In fact there is a political, economic and social crisis being lived by the regimes in whose territories the American forces are conducting the military manoeuvres. The staging of such manoeuvres reflects the reality of this crisis and its depth and link with the crisis and laceration of the capitalist system in the West. It also proves remarkably the extent to which the new American Administration went to express its aggressive intentions resembled in continuation of the adoption of hostility to peace, flagrant interference in the internal affairs of the peoples of the developing countries, the desire to intensify the international situation and shake the bases of world security and peace and revival of the policy of cold war. In my calculation, the undertaking by the United States of America, the major State, of such provocative act cannot be viewed as if it is a hostile act only because it is a serious event in the chain of its traditional aggressive activities that exceeded the limits of its aims of assuring the regimes running after it and frightening the peoples of the countries of the area and even farther than this. To us, in addition to our confidence in self and in the ability of the people, in cohesion with our friends and brothers, to confront any aggression, we have warned from the start against the staging of such manoeuvres.

because they threaten our security and safety of our homeland, but because we see in them a serious sign on which it is difficult for us and other peoples of the area and forces of world peace to keep quiet. It might be difficult now to convince the rulers of Egypt, the Sudan, Somalia and Oman, openly, of the seriousness of what was done by them and to admit the wrongness of the attitude followed by them whether by opening their territories to the American forces to play havoc on them with full freedom and confidence, or in demonstrating hostility to their peoples and behaving, in this shameful way, with the sovereignty of their homelands.

Q.2 - Are you still at your opinion on the necessity of holding a conference for the countries of the Gulf, Red Sea and the Horn of Africa? And do you believe there is a possibility for this?

A.2 - Yes, we are still at our previous opinion in connection with safeguarding security and stability in this area and we have the preparedness to discuss it and crystallise it with all parties concerned anywhere and at any time acceptable to them. In the light of the recent developments, it appears clear the effectiveness and importance of our call for holding a conference at summit level for the countries of the area of the Arabian Peninsula and Gulf, the Horn of Africa and the parties concerned for discussing how to keep this area away from tension and to make it an area free of all military bases hostile to the security and ~~wealths~~ of the peoples of the area and their national sovereignty. In my imagination, if no such serious steps are taken and if no sincere intentions and real desire by all for security and stability exist, then the dangers will expand and the countries of the area will continue to be subject to blackmailing and looting by the imperialists. It is natural that danger in a sensitive and oil-rich area such as ours, would not exclude anyone from its effects. This is to be understood by those who still imagine that they will be safe from the danger of the thorns planted by them for others.

Q.3 - As Yemenis would you go for battle in Ethiopia or Libya if they are ransacked by danger from the American forces or their Arab allies?

A.3 - The tripartite Aden summit treaty, concluded between Democratic Yemen, Socialist Ethiopia and the Libyan Jamahirya, points out our commitments and duties towards each other. Certainly, the danger threatening Libya or Ethiopia would be regarded as a threat to us and vice-versa. Therefore, it becomes natural to say that we in the People's Democratic Republic of Yemen, will stand looking at any external aggression faced by Libya or Ethiopia. More than this, we are ready, whenever we are requested, to support any sister Arab State being subject to external aggression.

INTERVIEW - Cont'd.

Q.4 - If the oilfields were subject to invasion by the United States of America what would be your stand?

A.4 - The Americans have formed the rapid deployment forces and threatened of occupying the oilfields. Certainly, they wanted behind this to frighten the peoples of the area and they will certainly find complete confrontation from all. Our soldiers will stand side by side with the brotherly people in the neighbouring oil areas. Even Saudi Arabia, if covered by the aggression, we will not hesitate to fulfil our national duties for expelling such aggression.

Q.5 - What is your stand from the Sultanate of Oman which is extending military facilities to the American forces and do you back the People's Front for the Liberation of Oman?

A.5 - It is known by all that the internal conditions in the Sultanate of Oman, during the period of colonialist presence and the presence of the forces of the Shah of Iran, remained instable and have deteriorated more in the recent years as a result of the policy adopted by Oman in showing hostility to the people and threatening the security and stability of the peoples of the area neighbouring it and in particular Democratic Yemen, which remained a target for provocation and incursion by the foreign presence in Oman. At the same time, Oman adopted a policy hostile to the supreme interests of the Arab peoples, joining the Camp David caravan, deviating Arab collectivity, and abandoning the sovereignty of Oman for the American forces. All this does not come within the framework of what is called as the right of Oman to adopt the policy it wants only, but surpasses this to a farther extent. For example, the American presence in the Sultanate of Oman constitutes direct danger to our security and threatens the security and stability of all peoples of the area and it is our right, in this case, to express our rejection of everything that constitutes a threat or danger to our country. As regards the attitude towards the People's Front for the Liberation of Oman, our relations with it go back to the years before we achieved our independence and when we were together fighting British colonialism. We are not in difference with the Omani people and the Omani people cannot but find from our people all solidarity and brotherhood. As to the regime existing in the Sultanate of Oman, acceptable solutions must be found for the existing differences. We have pointed out our opinions on this respect to our brothers who tried to mediate and made efforts for which they are to be thanked.

INTERVIEW - Cont'd.

Q.6 - What are the results of your recent Arab tour and on what subject it dealt?

A.6 - During my visit to Kuwait, Bahrain and Qatar I held useful talks with their leaders. I feel satisfied with the frankness that prevailed during our talks. We have spoken with open hearts, on all worries and issues that concern the peoples of our area in a joint manner. Each one of us got acquainted with the point of view of the other on matters connected with development of the current conditions at both Arab and international levels.

Q.7 - What is your attitude towards the Saudi plan for peace which was sponsored by the ~~six~~ countries of the Gulf Cooperation Council?

A.7 - We got acquainted with the plan as dealt with by the information media but we did not receive it officially. So we will say our opinion on it at the forthcoming Arab summit conference in Morocco.

Q.8 - What is the condition of the relations with the northern part of the country and do you back the progressive National Front in the northern part?

A.8 - Our activity in connection with the relations with our brothers in the northern part of the homeland was signified by eagerness to continue the peaceful and constructive dialogue which will provide the firm bases and assurances for the re-unity of the homeland away from violence and war. On every occasion we were proving practically our eagerness towards the interests of the Yemeni people and the seriousness of our unity steps. I visited the northern part of the country more than five times during the past two years the last of which was our visit to the town of Taiz and our meeting with Brother President Ali Abdullah Saleh and we have concluded an agreement that aimed at endorsing and uniting efforts and peaceful dialogue between both parts for serving the supreme interest of the Yemeni people for unity and national sovereignty. At the same time peaceful dialogue was resumed between the National Front in the north and the regime there, which dialogue was stopped and resumed between them more than once.

Q.9 - But the officials in Sanaa say that you have signed the agreement but did not stick to its implementation?

A.9 - In fact, and this is known by all, there exists in the southern part of Yemen one authority and when we sign an agreement we stick to it because we do not have numerous authorities nor centres of power that can exercise pressure. We are sincere in our dealings and when we have any remarks and opinions on any issue we do not hide it nor hesitate to express it, because by that we are reflecting our conviction and reject the pressures and convictions of others on us.. The matter we are convinced of is approved by us. So, there is nothing that calls upon us to retreat or abandon what is committed by us with the others. In my calculation, there is that who found in tension between both parts, and inside Yemen, a source for becoming rich and blackmailing. Such persons do not like stability and security and so we find them exercising different forms of subversion and distortion and intrigue to push forward the intensification of conditions. But we will not allow the war mongers realise their aims. The reactionary sources, which bet on tension and want the explosion anew of the fighting between both parts in order that they live at the expense of the misery and hardships of the Yemenis, would have their bet loosing because our people knows where its interests lie and realises the dimension of its need for stability. Emanating from this logic and on its bases we will continue to make our efforts and contacts with our brethren in the northern part for reaching practical and remarkable results serving the cause of re-unity of our homeland.

Q.10 - It was announced more than once that President Ali Abdullah Saleh will visit Aden, but this did not take place. To what reasons you attribute this especially that you were the first to visit Sanaa and you went to northern Yemen more than once. Are we to understand from your repeated visits your desire in unity and non-response of the officials in the northern part to this desire?

A.10 - We have addressed to Brother President Ali Abdullah Saleh an invitation to visit the southern part of the homeland we hope this desire will come true and be able to accept our invitation to him.

Q.11 - How are your relations with the Soviet Union and the countries of the Socialist Community?

A.11 - Our relations are excellent with the Soviet Union and other countries of the Socialist community and life proved the sincerity of the Soviet Union and its loyalty to the examples of honest friendship with our Yemeni people and the Arab peoples. It was always the friend in deed. We are grateful for the development witnessed by the relations between our country and these countries.

Q.12 - How do you describe the relations between Aden and Riyadh at present?

A.12 - They are natural and normal relations and we have the desire to establish their panels on the basis of mutual respect and benefit and equality.

INTERVIEW - Cont'd.

Q.13 - How do you see the future of the Yemeni economy?

A.13 - It is developing gradually and we have a programme under which the basic attitudes for development which were approved by our party in its extraordinary congress, are being implemented. We are satisfied with what was achieved by us in this field even if it was less than what is cherished by us. We see that there are wide and extensive horizons for economic and social development in our country because we, at the present time, are in the course of building the basic skeletons for economy and are dedicating potentialities for exploration of our oil and mineral wealths. This means that our efforts, being made today, will lead to good results in the next few years and would reflect their remarkable effects on the improvement of the living standard of the citizens and development of the economic and defensive ability of the country.

Q.14 - Do you believe that there exists in Egypt now the possibility of returning back to the Arab rank?

A.14 - Egypt will return back certainly to the rank of the Arab peoples but when? This will be answered and decided by the Egyptian people and its national and democratic forces.
